TAVERN CROWD

Top 10
Aarakocra Names

Aarakocra names use sharp, clipped sounds: clicks, trills, and breathy vowels that suggest birdcall. Most have 2-3 syllables and avoid heavy consonant clusters, since they're meant to carry on the wind.

1. Aera — D&D 5e Monster Manual
   One of the sample aarakocra names from the original 5th Edition entry.
2. Quaf — Princes of the Apocalypse
   An aarakocra NPC from the adventure that first made them playable in 5e.
3. Kazra — Storm King's Thunder
   An aarakocra scout who aids adventurers against the giant threat.
4. Revali — The Legend of Zelda: BotW
   The Rito Champion — an avian archer whose arrogance masks deep dedication.
5. Medli — The Legend of Zelda: Wind Waker
   A Rito sage who inherits the role of Earth Sage. Gentle and courageous.
6. Kass — The Legend of Zelda: BotW
   A traveling Rito bard whose accordion songs guide players to hidden shrines.
7. Teba — The Legend of Zelda: BotW
   A Rito warrior who stands against Divine Beast Vah Medoh despite his fear.
8. Garuda — Hindu & Buddhist Mythology
   The divine bird-mount of Vishnu. A name that echoes through countless fantasy bird-folk.
9. Talon — Overwatch
   While not aarakocra specifically, Talon evokes the predatory naming convention of bird warriors.
10. Screech — D&D Community Lore
    A common aarakocra name reflecting their tendency to name after sounds and calls.