TAVERN CROWD

Top 10
Wood Elf Names

Wood elf names lean earthy and naturalistic, more grounded than high elf, with sounds that evoke rustling leaves and forest glades. Shorter, rougher than their cousins, shaped by centuries under canopy rather than in crystal towers.

1. Legolas — The Lord of the Rings
   The Woodland Realm's prince — 'green leaves' in Sindarin. The definitive wood elf.
2. Tauriel — The Hobbit (Films)
   Captain of the Mirkwood guard. Her name means 'forest daughter.' A Peter Jackson creation.
3. Halsin — Baldur's Gate 3
   A wood elf archdruid of the Emerald Grove. Larian's take on wood elf leadership.
4. Erevan — D&D Pantheon
   Erevan Ilesere — elven god of mischief and change. Wood elves claim him as their own.
5. Oakenheel — D&D Convention
   A deed-name reflecting a wood elf's bond with ancient trees.
6. Solonor — D&D Pantheon
   Solonor Thelandira — elven god of hunting and archery. The wood elf patron deity.
7. Mielikki — Forgotten Realms
   Goddess of forests. Drizzt served her — her name flows through wood elf culture.
8. Jaheira — Baldur's Gate
   A half-elf druid, but her wood elf energy — fierce, protective, nature-bound — is unmistakable.
9. Robin — Robin Hood
   The forest outlaw. Wood elf rangers have channeled his archetype for decades.
10. Silvanus — D&D / Roman Pantheon
    God of wild nature. His name anchors wood elf druidic traditions.