TAVERN CROWD

Top 10
Kobold Names

Kobold names are short, yappy, and often end in hard consonants, reflecting their high-energy, slightly frantic nature. They have a draconic influence but filtered through a scrappier, more desperate lens.

1. Spurt — Critical Role
   A kobold inventor who lived 11 days of glory. Chris Perkins's cameo became legendary.
2. Meepo — D&D Sunless Citadel
   The kobold dragon-keeper. Possibly the most beloved NPC kobold in D&D history.
3. Deekin — Neverwinter Nights
   A bard kobold companion who wrote terrible poetry and stole everyone's heart.
4. Pun-Pun — D&D Optimization Lore
   The theoretical kobold who achieved infinite power through rules exploits. A legend.
5. Tucker — Tucker's Kobolds (D&D)
   From the famous Dragon Magazine article about deadly kobold tactics in tight corridors.
6. Yip — D&D Convention
   An onomatopoeic kobold name — short, sharp, and excitable.
7. Sniv — D&D Convention
   A sniveling, servile name that captures the kobold survival strategy of groveling.
8. Kurtulmak — D&D Pantheon
   God of kobolds, trapped by Garl Glittergold. His name anchors kobold culture.
9. Skrag — Fantasy Convention
   Harsh and scrappy — a kobold who fights above their weight class.
10. Fizban — Common Kobold Trap Name
    Kobolds naming traps after things they fear. A 'Fizban' trap probably involves fire.